

Account Manager

Our fast, brilliant, happy account team is seeking a new team member who will help manage client relationships and ongoing projects.

YOUR DREAM JOB

This could be your dream job if you:

- > Are a master juggler;
- > Possess over-developed abilities in thinking, writing, managing, researching, listening, presenting, and figuring things out;
- > Have exceptional people skills; and
- > Enjoy working collaboratively with (and learning from) some of the most talented folks in the business.

Bonus points if you have five-plus years agency or equivalent experience, a media planning/trafficking background, broadcast and/or digital media experience, and a desire to travel.

About us: We're an award-winning, Atlanta-based branding agency specializing in health, wealth, and wisdom. We serve clients across the country and our work runs the gamut – from comprehensive branding programs to digital campaigns to broadcast media to all forms of collateral.

About the position: It's a good match for someone who likes the idea of working (and playing) in a 22-person shop where everyone is very bright and very driven to produce exceptional work. Compensation negotiable, good benefits, great environment.

Next steps: Get a feel for our culture at mindpowerinc.com. If you're up to the challenge, send your resume and the most compelling letter you've ever written telling us why you're "the one" to careers@mindpowerinc.com.